

Customer Data Privacy Policy

By signing the Client Trading Agreement with TRADEDU LLC, Client agrees that TRADEDU LLC can process and keep all personal data provided by Client, and/or data TRADEDU LLC has access to in order to execute its communication with the Client. Client agrees that TRADEDU LLC may use independent sources at its discretion in order to identify the Client. Client agrees that access to his/her personal data shall be granted only to employees, managing members of the Company, and persons that the Company has executed agreements for legal and accounting services with. Client agrees that the Company may disclose his/ her personal data only to credit, financial and other institutions, state and municipal bodies when this is necessary for the execution of the agreement with Client or in order to meet the requirements for the measures against money laundering and terrorism financing.